News of the Forning.

We present this morning the memorial of the Free State offices of Kansas, against the admission of that territory into the Union, under the Lecompton Constitution. Also the Manifesto of Ex-Governor Stanton of Kausas, to the people of the United States. These two documents will be read with interest by the people of the Northorn States, as they exhibit plainly what the Freu State men have suffered from the hands of the Administration. The Message of the President when taken in connection with these documents shows that he has determined to force through that obnexious measure, the Lecompton Constitution, in spite of the expressed will of the people of Kansas.

The resolutions relation to Kansas, were called up in our State Legislature yesterday, and acted upon. The full proceedings will be found elec-

In Congress, yesterday, nothing of importance was done. There were several efforts made to take up the Lecompton Message, but even the Administration mombers are handling it as earofully as possible. The steamer Edinburgh from Glasgow, has ar rived, but brings no nows of importance.

Our home market exhibited a slight change for the better yesterday. Receipts of produce were larger than any day during the week. There was more activity in the New York Market. Weather still continues cold, and several yessols that had left for Lake Michigan ports were obliged to roturn on account of the ice.

In the meantime, close and secret watch was kept of the suspected clork. After making up the package, he went out to the privy, returning in a short time.

The County Convention to select Delegates to the State Democratic Convention, held a stormy session during the day, on contested sonts.—

Having been recently removed from the office of Secretary of Kansas Territory, under circum-stances which imply severe consure on the part of the President, and having had no official information of my removal, nor any opportunity for explanation of disease, I have deemed it ne-

and Gev. Walker.

On my arrival in the Territory in April last, in advance of Gav. Walker, I confuses that I had an imperfect knowledge of the real condition of affairs. I supposed the question of slavery to be the only cause dissention and difficulty among the people; and, in my brief inaugural address of the 17th April, I treated this as the chief subject of difference upon which a submission to their hatred and rejection of their instrument which permitted them, and was to be carried by them, that I called the Logislature of the 17th April, I treated this as the chief subject of difference upon which a submission to the people would be likely to be demanded. I soon found, however, that this view was altogether too limited, and did not reach the true ground of controvary. The great mass of the lambitants of the Trritery were dissatisfied with the local government, and carneady denied the validity of the existing laws. Asserting that the previous Legislatures had been forced upon them by the fraud and violence of a neighboring people, they proclaimed their determination never to submit to the enautments of legislative bodies thus become the position of Governor and refuse the lieved to be illegithmate and not entitled to obeience. This was the condition of things when Gov. Walker came to the Territory, in the latter part of May. It was evident that the just policy of permitting the people to regulate their own affairs could not the people to regulate their own interest could not be successfully carried out, unless they could be inspired with confidence—the agents of Gry-crament through whom this result was to be effected. If a mere minority of the people had been thus dissatisfied and contamacious, they might possibly have been pronounced factions and treated as disturbers of the peace; but when the dissatisfaction was general, comprising almost the whole people, a more respectful consideration was indispensible to a peaceable adjustment.—It was evident that the policy of repression—a rigid attempt to enforce submisson without any effort at concillation—would inevitably result in a renewal of the civil war. With commendate anxiety to avoid this centingency, Cov. Walker resolved to go among the people, to listen to their complaints, to give them assurance of a fair and just administration of the Territorial governmen, and to induce them, if possible, to governmen, and to induce them, if possible, to abundon their hostlity, and to enter upon the peac ful but densive struggle of the bullot-box. I was aften with the Governor when he addres-and the investility, and to enter upon the peac ful but decisive struggle of the ballot-hox. I was often with the Governor when he addressed the people, and gave my best efforts in aid of the great purpose of conciliation.

It was too late to induce the people to go into the June decition for delegates to the Convention. The registration required by law had been imporfact in all the counties, and had been whole imporfact in all the counties, and had been whole imporfact in all the counties and had been whole people of tibes disfranchised countes vote in any adjacent county, as has been faisely suggested. In such of them as subsequently took a census or registry of their own, the delegates chosen were not admitted to seats in the Convention.—Novortheless, it is not to be demied that the great central fact, which controlled the whole case, was the utter want of confidence by the people in the whole machinery of the Territorial Government. They alleged that the local officers, in all lustances, were unscruptulous partisans, who had previously defrauded them in the elections, and who were ready to repeat the same outerages again; that, even if intruders from abread should not be permitted to overpower them, they would be chusted by false returns, which it would not and who were ready to repeat the same outerges again; that, even if intruders from abrend should not be permitted to overpower them, they would be chanted by false returns, which it would not on possible for the Governor and Secretary to deropealed by the previous Legislature. Online y, and as a consequence to keep up agitation and to render civil war inevitable. But the in-

But the minority were determined not to sub-mit to defeat. The populous county of Douglas had been attached to the border county of Johnand been attached to the border county of coun-son, with a large and controlling representation in the Legislature. The colebrated Oxford fraud was perpetrated with a view to obtain majorities to both Houses of the Assembly. When these in both Houses of the Assembly. When these returns were received at my office, in Governor Walker's absence, I had fully determined not to Walker's absonce, I had fully determined not to give cortificates based upon them. It they had been so formal and correct as to have made it my duty to certify them, I would have resigned my office in order to testify my sense of the onormity of the wrong. Gov. Walker, at Leavenworth, had formed the same resolution, as he stated to me and several others, and we were both gratified that we found the papers so imperfect as to make it our duty to reject them. Great excitement followed in the Territory.—The minerity, thus righteously defeated in the effort to prolong their power, begann force in effort to prolong their power, became flores opposition and reserted to every means of intin-idation. But I am led to believe that they found their most effectual means of operation by un-dormining as with the Administration at Wash-

The Constitutional Convention, which had adjourned over until after the October election, met again in Lecompton to resume its labors. Many of the members of that body were bitterly hostile to the Governor and Secretary, on account of their rejection of the Oxford and McGee frands, in which some of the members and efficers of the Convention had a direct participation. In fact, this body, with some honorable exception, well expresented the minority party in the Territory, and were fully imbued with the same spirit and designs. It was obviously not their desire to secure to the real people of Kansas the control of their own allairs. In the Constitution control of their own alians. In the Constitution soon afterwards adopted, they endeavored to supersede the Legislature which had been elected by the people, by providing, in the schedule, that "all laws now of force in the Territory shall continue to be of force until altered, amended, or repealed by a Legislature under the provisions of the Constitution."

the Constitution. They provided still more effectually, as they apposed, for the perpetuation of their minority government, by adopting the Oxford fraudus the basis of their apportionment, having a great preponderance of representation to the counties on the Missour border, and affording, at the same time, every possible facility for the introduction of spurious votes. The President of the Couof spurious votes. The President of the cou-vention was clothed with unlimited power in conducting the elections and receiving the re-turns, while the officers are not required to take the usual each to secure fair and honest decling. The elections were harried on in midwinter—the when emigrants could only come from the immediate borders, under the qualification which invited to the ballet-box every white male inhabitant "in the Territory on that day." The same won who did this had previously denounced Gov Walker for the suggestion in his inaugural ad-dress, and in his Topeka speech, that the Consti-tution should be submitted to all the bona fide Court, claims were presented against the agent of the firm for nearly $1,000,000. Another needing will be held on the 3d of Murch next.

The meeting of the Legislature divested the at-tention of the people from the schemes of vio-lence upon which they were prooding, substitu-ted the excitment of debate and investigation for that of flores and warlike hatred, and enabled their representatives to devise means for coun-teracting the wrongs which they flortly appearly. teracting the wrongs which they Justly apprendfor explanation of decrence, I have deemed it necessary to present to the People of the United States a brief statement of facts in vindication of any motives, and in explanation of the results of the act for which I have been condemned.

The office in question was not given at my solicitation. My acceptance of it, under all the circumstances, was a proof of strong friendslip for the President, and of unbounded confidence in the firmness and faithfulness with which he would adhere to the line of policy deliberately agreed apon between him, his whole Cablact, and Gr. Walker.

On my arrival in the Territory in April last, in advance of Gay, Walker, I confess that I had in advance of Gay, Walker, I confess that I had in advance of Gay, Walker, I confess that I had in advance of Gay, Walker, I confess that I had in advance of Gay, Walker, I confess that I had in advance of Gay, Walker, I confess that I had in advance of Gay, Walker, I confess that I had in advance of Gay, Walker, I confess that I had in advance of Gay, Walker, I confess that I had in advance of Gay, Walker, I confess that I had in advance of Gay, Walker, I confess that I had in advance of Gay, Walker, I confess that I had in advance of Gay, Walker, I confess that I had in advance of Gay, Walker, I confess that I had in advance of Gay, Walker, I confess that I had in advance of Gay, Walker, I confess that I had in the I confess that I had the I confess that I had the I confess that I had the I confes at lights, and to protect themselves ogainst the basest frauds and strongs ever attempted upon an outraged community.

Not having been informed of the grounds of my removal, I know them only through the newspaper reports, to the effect that, in calling the Legislature I disobayed the instructions boaring on the entlect, and there was no time to obtain them, were if I had felt bound to substitute the President's will for that discretion which the organic act confided to me. The convening of the Legislature undoubtedly prevented difficulty and secured peace. Were it important, I amiconfident could establish that position by the most undoubted facts—but it is sufficient now to say that the peace of the Territory was not in fact distribed, and whatever approaches were made to condemned has enabled the people of Kansas to make known their real will in regard to the Lo-compton Constitution. This affords the Demo-

THE REPRESENTATIVE, -- This is the name of a new weekly paper published at Watertown, by tropid resolution of Gov. Walker in spite of floree opposition and deducciation, far and near, carried blin through this dangerous crisis, and he had the proud satisfaction of having achieved a peaceful trlumph, by inducing the people tsubmit to the arbitrament of the ballot-box.

Os THE RIVER,-The boys were having a glo rious time on the river yesterday. The skating is excellent, and the boys seem to appreciate it fully. There were probably not less than four hundred of them on the ice yesterday afternoon, between the Oneida Street and Walker's Point bridges. The ice was as smooth as glass, and the weather pleasant for exercising. We hope it may remain so for some time, as well for the pleasure of the boys, as the profit of the ice denlers.

RAIL ROAD TO OSHKOSH .- The Courier says t is reported that the Chicago, St. Paul & Fond du Luc Railroad Company, have concluded an arrangement which will enable them to complete the laying of the track between this city and Fond du Lac in the course of a few weeks. The information comes from a reliable source, and we congratulate our citizens upon the prospect of an early realization of this long hoped for

DIED .- ELIJA S. HUTCHINS, who was run over near the Oneida street bridge on the evening o the 2d, died from the effects of the injuries which he received; upon examination it was found that his skull had been fractured. A coroner's inquest was hold on the body yesterday, and the jury rendered a verdict that the deceased came to his death by being run over while lying insensible in the street, near the corners of West Water and Wells streets. How Hutchins came to be lying intensible upon the street has not been ascertained. There were two men in the buggy which ran over him, and they were driv-ing very fast at the time, and as it was after dark it is supposed they did not know they had driven over him, as they continued on without slackening their pace. The wheels of the buggy passed over his head, and probably did not cause an unusual jult. The man who saw the occurrence gave it as his opinion that the men did not know that they had run over the man. Mr.

XXXVth Congress-First Session WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.

SENATE.—Mr. Davis introduced a bill for the relief of the officers and soldiers of the army who were stationed at Fort Kearney provious to March ist, 1853.

Mr. Wilson offered an amendment to the mo Mr. Wilson offered an amendment to the motion to refer the Kansas message similar to that summitted by Harris in the House yesterday.

Mr. Trumball desired to call up a question of privilege, namely, the report of the Committee on Judiciary, on the contested seats of Messas. Bright and Fitch.

Mr. Bayard ebjected. He thought the Kansas question far more important and ought first to be actived as it involved considerations which might perhaps affect the stability of the Theory might, perhaps, affect the stability of the Union, Mr. Trumball was of the opinion that the reason assigned by Mr. Bayard was the very beat reason in the world for settling the question of the right of these gentlemen to the seats they

the right of these gentlemen to the seats they now occupy.

Mr. Bayard replied, that, if there were any other gentlemen who contested the seats, it would present a different case; but these members have taken their seats under regularly signed credentials, which constituted prima facial evidence that they were entitled to them.

Mr. Bright said he was anxious to have the greating aethed as reconsequences. question settled as soon as possible.

Mr. Brown remarked that if the design was o make this subject the special order for to-morow; to the exclusion of all other business, he hould interpose an objection.

Mr. Hale contended that as a question of privilege the Senate were bound to consider and Mr. Trumbull withdrew his motion, but said he would renew it to-morrow.

The President's Kansas Message was then taken up.

Mr. Wilson attacked the President's position, att. Whison intacked the President's position, stating that the history in the message was a supendous, a gigantic misrepresentation of the affairs of Kansas. He denied the statement in the message that there has been a party in the Territory setting at defining the constitution of the laws of the land. He denounced the Lecountry Canstitution saving these however. the laws of the land. He denounced the Lecompton Constitution, saying that he would rather have the Constitution with Slavery than without it, because with Slavery it might be abollahed, but without it, it would be perpetual. It was a perversion of fact and truth in the President or anybody else, to charge that the people of Kansas, by voting for the election of officers under the Lecompton Constitution, intended in any way to give their sanction to it.—They went to the ballot-box on the 4th of January to beat out forever that Constitution.—They knew that the people were against it by They went to the ballot-box on the 4th of Jauuary to beat out forever that Constitution.—
They knew that the people were against it by an overwhelming majority of five or six to one.
They meant to overthrow Calhonn and his corrupt missions in the Territory, who had violated justice and stained their names by frands, outrages and murders. The only way to do that was to elect men pledged against that Constitution, and who would come here, as they have, to ask Congress and the country to reject it as a frand on the people of Kansas, and act fairly and above board. He proclaimed to the country and the world the President's misrepresentations and

Mr. Wilson paid a high compliment to Mr. Douglas for his manly advocacy of the great principle of freedom, in opposition to the dictates of the slave power. For this, the Senator from Illinois, has been called a Black Republicant from Illinois has been called a Black Republican. Any man was so called who refused to support this has injusty—this last crowning act of infamy. No matter if his whole life had been devoted to the interests of slavery, if he pauses now and refuses to assent to these palpable frauds, he was to be cruehed out of the party.

Mr. Brown concurred most cordially in this message of the President. Seldom had he seen a document, of the same length, in which he found so little to dissent from. There could be but two opinions relative to that paper. Those entertained by rational men of all parties on one side, and those entertained by sectional men on the other. He never expected that the Senator from Massachusette could concur in the arguments and conclusions of a national President. the other. He never expected that the Senator from Massachusetts could concur in the arguments and conclusions of a national President, whether he might be Democrat, American or Whig. He then proceeded to present some considerations to the minds of his political friends, which might perhaps influence them if they entertained any doubt as to the course they ought to pursue, and in the course of his remarks said that the Republican party had not the shadow of an evistance courseled. an existence outside of the non-slave holding States, and if it succeeded in its efforts to break up the National Democratic party, it was absolutely certain that the country would be divided into two sectional parties. In that event, the Union would be drawn assunder, and this was as decreas on that the connected of the the connected of the co certain as that the sun rose this morning and will set to-night. Mr. Seward said he was quite sure that the question on reference could not be taken this evening. He thought they had better adjourn. They could digest what the Senator from Mis-sissippi had said to day, and hear the remainder of his speech to-morrow.

After a short Executive session the Senate ad-

Mr. Jones, of Tennessee, said this was one of the most important questions ever presented to Congress, and involved the expenditure of $10,000,000.

The Trade Between the United States and Great Britain. The annual statement for 1866 of the English Board of Trade, which has recently been issued, shows that the computed real value of the imports from the United States during that year was no less than £35,047,775, being more than one-fitth of the whole imports of the year, over six millions storling in excess of 1854, and over the millions above 1865. Russia and France stand next among foreign countries, but neither of them exported to England a third of the baro majority of the become fitte cleared by a convention elected by a of them exported to England a third of the baro majority of the become of Kansas, and a next and the clear of the baro majority of the become of Kansas, and a next and the clear of the baro majority of the become of Kansas, and a next and the clear of the baro majority of the become of Kansas, and a next and the clear of the baro majority of the become of Kansas, and a next and the clear of the baro majority of the become of Kansas, and a next and the clear of the baro majority of the become of Kansas, and a next and the clear of the stand next among foreign countries, but neither of them exported to England a third of the amount shipped from the ports of the United States. The declared value of the exports from England to the United States was £21,013,105 in British manufactures and produce, and £698, 972 in foreign and colonial commodities, abranch of the trade which is annually diminishing. The United States consume nearly one-fifth of the exported manufactures and produce of Great Britain, no other consuming more than one-leventh of the whole, and only one [France] consuming more than one-twenticth. Nearly two-thirds of stitution, it was franced by a Convention cletched by a convention the people of Kansas, under an cleation cannot convention the people of the value cleated, but a part cleation convention the people of the value cleated, but a part cleation convention cletched by a cleated by a convention cleation convention cleated by a convention cleation cannot call of the people of the value cleated by a cleated by a convention cleation cannot cleated or one whore, and only one [granch consuming more than one-twentieth. Nearly two-thirds of stitution, thus framed, was never submitted by the total imports of American produce represents raw cotton, the importation of which from the United States shows very little stendancy to increase, the quantity imported in 1866 being very countries. It is called the "slavery chause," in such the produce that of the produce in 1866 being very countries and prosperity, of the State. This could statisfy the foreign and never submission of the people for their ratification or rejection; but on the other rights trilled with by the pretended submission of what is called the "slavery chause," in such prosperity, or the State. This contenting the countries of the people for their ratification, thus framed, was never submitted by the convention, to a fair vote of the people for their ratification or rejection; but on the other ratification or rejection or rejection; but on the other ratification little more than in 1852, and intervening yours showing still lower amounts. The next most important article is wheat; then comes flour, maize and tobacco. No other article amounted in value to a million stortion. The articles s which, looking to the five years from 1852 to 1856, show the most marked tendency to increase, are wheat, maize, hame, lard, oil cake, and logwood. Pork, hops, spermacell, caoutohoue manufactures, resis, tar, clover-seed, lurpotine and timber appear to be declining.

Among the British manufactures and products imported to the United States, the first place is held by cotton manufactures, which amount to more than one lifth of the whole. The value of these lucrossed more than 50 per cent. during the five years. Iron comes next, being more than one seventh of the whole; but the value in 1856 was much less than in 1852-54, and below the average of the five years. Wollen goods hold the third place, and increased one-lifth,-Then come linen goods, which increased oucfourth ; wearing apparel and haberdashery, hardwares and cutlery, and tin plates. Two of these, namely, appared and habordashery, and tin plates, are branches of the trade greatly on the increase. and a decided onward tondency is also perceptibloin beer and ale, coals, soda, spirits, and stationary. The chief article, not the produce of Breat Britain, which we import hence, is ladigo, and that trade is gradually declining. Other doclining branches are Peruvian bark, bristles,fisk hides, iron, nutuegs, opium, saltpetre, silk, spel ter, spirits, tip, and wool. The whole of this trade is, in fact, gradually declicing.

The departures for American ports were 1,776, tonninge 1.623.221. The entries under the United States flag were 1,821, the total burthen of the vessels amounting to 1,499,276 tons, or nearly one sixth of all the tourings which entered British ports during the year. The clearences were 1,662.

The man has been suffering from ill health for some time, and at his examination it was proved that he was a monomanian upon the idea that his wife sought to poison him; and although sane on all other matters he was decidedly beside himself on this. At dinner, upon the day of his arrest, he discovered something in his food which he pronounced arsunic, accused his wife of poisoning him, and swore he would kill her, She ran and he followed with an axe. Upon catching up with her, he raised the axe to PROTEST OF THE FREE STATE OFFICERS AGAINST THE ADMISSION OF KAMEAS UNDER THE LEGGLEon Constitution .- We give below the memorial of the Free State Officers, to Congress, protesting against the admission of Kansas under the Lecompton Constitution. Notwithstanding this, and the noited voice of the whole North, Congress has probably, ere this time, perpetusted the outrage under the instructions of the ad ministration, and forced the obnexious Constitution upon the people of Kansas; thus, virtually forcing, instead of admitting a new State lato the Union in direct opposition to the great mujurity of the actual residents :---

MEMORIAL To the h nerable the Senate and the House of Kepresentatives of the United States, in Con-yress assembled.

The undereigned, the State officers elected under the provisions of the Constitution of the State of Kansas, framed at Lecompton, would most respectfully represent: That the Constitu-tion under which they have been elected to the manuer as to present no question except that of the importation of slaves into the State in future, the importation of claves into the state in intire, and forcing every one who voted to give his sanction to all the provisions of the Constitution, and to take, if required, a test oath, to support said Constitution, if adopted. Under the provisions of the schedule providing for said election; those who roted a ballet marked "Constitution with Manual I proposabile they their constitution with people who know and appreciate the rights of reement; and hence eight-tenths of the people rejected the effer with contempt, and refused to rejected the other with the terms of which thus compromised the dignity of an American citized. In view of these lacts, the Territorial report of a Board of Commissionors authorized by him to investigate the same.

We present the above facts in support of our declaration previously made, that the people of Kancas have rejected the Locompton Constitution by an overwhelming majority. The object of your momorialists, and those who support them, in participating in the election for Same officers, &c., under the fiscompton Constitution, was not designed to give the slightest sanction to that increment; but on the other hand to destroy it, in case Congress should adult us into the Union and thereby force upon the people an organic

'mojority may opprove."

Thus publicly pledged, we went before the people had contested the election, under the provisions of the schodule of the Constitution, which opened a wide door to femile, and under which frauds, to the extent of 3,500 or 4,000 votes were committed, and under Judges of Election, who, in many preducts, demanded a test outh to support the Constitution, in direct violation of the Constitution itself, by which catching up with her, he raised the axe to strike, when luckly his foot eaught in a root which brought him to the ground. Some men at work in a field near by heard the cry of "murder!" and managed to secure the man before he accmoplished his insune design.

Marina Losses for January.—The N. Y. Courier de Enquirer publishes a table of Marine losses for the past month showing an aggregate of eighteen vessels of which five were ships three were barks, two were brigs and eight were barks, two were brigs and eight were dead and incty-three thousands was four hundred dollars. This is the value of the property totally dollars. This is the value of the property totally stitution to a fair vote of the people of Kausse for their ratification or rejection, and that the Territorial Legislature did provide by law for its submission, under which law it was submitted and rejected by an overwhelming mojority of the goople; and for the sake of the peace and prosperity of this Territory, as well as the har mony and integrity of the Union, we, the officers elected under said Constitution, do most research of the and demostly may your honorable spectually and carnestly pray your honorable bodies not to admit Kansas into the Union un souties not to admit knosss into the Union in der said Constitution, and thus force upon our people an organic law against their expressed will, and in violation of every principle of pop-with government.

SWALLOWING AN INDIAN.—In the early settled ment of Cherokee, Georgia, prior to the removal of the aborigines, in many cases in the Superior Courts of the various counties, either one or more of the parties were Indians. The first Solicitor-General of the Circuit Court was, at the the time we speak, of a young lawyer, who had but lately removed beyond the Chattahoochee, from confeithe older counties of the State. He has since received from his fellow disease offices of honor-having represented them frequently in the Congress of the United States, and served on the Judicial Bonch.

Among the Indians who gave great trouble to the courts, was a notorious old vagabond, rejoicing in the name of Swallow—a drunken quarreliseme old scoundrel, everlatingly on the civil or criminal docket.
